COLLEGE HYMN

Live, O. C. E., in majesty and might,
Thou hast emerged in splendor from thy night;
Past storm and strife thou dost in triumph reign,
And proudly floats our banner free, free from stain.

Noble and strong thy sons and daughters are,
All walks of life have felt thy fervent power;
Thy record casts a radiance o'er thy name,
A lasting tribute to thy aim, thy worthy aim.

Beloved school, we pray thou e'er may stand,
To guide aright our earnest teacher band;
That Oregon may see her future youth
Imbued with wisdom and with truth, eternal truth.

ACADEMIC CAPS, GOWNS, AND HOODS

The custom of wearing academic dress is said to have originated in the thirteenth century at Cambridge University in England. Academic dress, serving as a reminder of the wearer's duties and obligations in the scholastic world, was required for students and faculty on almost daily occasions. Throughout the following years the custom spread generally to other colleges and other countries. At present on most college campuses, the faculty and seniors appear in academic garb at ceremonials such as graduation and baccalaureate and similar events. Since 1895 the colleges and universities in the United States have followed a uniform code which specifies the correct type of cap, gown, and hood for each degree.

Significance of academic costumes is determined especially by the sleeves and hoods. Doctors wear the round, bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or velvet of color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may, if he chooses, wear the gold tassel on his cap. Masters wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size. Bachelors wear the long pointed sleeve; the hood is small. Undergraduates wear the round or pointed sleeve, and wear no hood.

Hoods are lined with the colors of the institution granting the degree, or with which the wearer is connected, and are trimmed with velvet of the color distinctive of the degree:

Arts and Letters, white	Engineering, orange
Theology, scarlet	Pharmacy, olive green
Law, purple	Veterinary Science, gray
Philosophy, blue	Forestry, russet
Science, golden yellow	Library Science, lemon
Fine Arts, brown	Education, light blue
Medicine, green	Oratory, silver gray
Music, pink	Humanics, crimson
Commerce, drab	Agriculture, maize
Physical Education, sage green	Economics, copper
Public Health, salmon pink
